

Rugby World Cup

This is the time of Rugby world cup. Twenty years ago in 1995, Nelson Mandela inspired the South African nation and the Springboks team to win the Rugby World Cup against all odds. Through that event Nelson Mandel united a divided nation. That was a remarkable achievement and gives all of us the inspiration to use every opportunity to bring harmony into challenging situations. (2009 film Invictus tells the story of this even and I thoroughly enjoyed it. I would recommend everyone to watch that film).
